

Adaptive Approaches:

Materials Adaptation

Example: A Cub Scout has little hand strength and is trying to carve.

Solution: Substitute a bar of soap or balsa wood.

Architectural Adaptation

Example: A Scout in a wheelchair is unable to go hiking because the trail is inaccessible.

Solution: Substitute "trip" for "hike" and/or select alternative route.

Leisure Companion Adaptation

Example: A Cub Scout cannot stay on task and runs around.

Solution: An adult or older youth can become a buddy for the Cub Scout.

Cooperative Group Adaptation

Example: A Cub Scout has difficulty remembering the steps in a project.

Solution: Work in cooperative groups to ensure completion for everyone.

Behavioral Adaptation

Example: A Scout is unable to participate because of low concentration levels.

Solution: Talk with parents/guardians about a behavioral plan.
